

Brushy Mountain State Penitentiary used to be the last place you wanted to be sent to. Known as the “End of the Line,” Brushy was a maximum-security prison that held murderers, robbers, evil men who committed heartless crimes with little remorse.

Brushy Mountain State Penitentiary, located West of Oak Ridge has recently opened to the public for tours. Former prison guards will answer questions or share brief stories that will terrify and surprise you.

Of course there is a museum and gift shop where you can purchase t-shirts, hats etc. and End of the Line Tennessee Moonshine.

Join us on Saturday December 1, 2018 8 AM – 2 PM approx.

We will meet in the Chota Center parking lot across the street from the Marathon Gas Station at 8am. We will carpool to the facility from there. It is a 1 hour and 10 +- minute drive. Tour will start around 9:30am which will give our group about 60 minutes to ourselves in the prison.

- A check for $20 is due upon registration to hold your place and will be returned the day of the tour. Checks should be made payable to Tellico Village - HOA.
- Our guided tour will be conducted by a former prison guard. Tour cost will be $15 + tax - Payable at the door. We will need to sign a waiver upon arrival at the prison.
- Lunch at the Warden’s Table onsite restaurant following the tour – around 11:30pm. Lunch will be a set entrée with choice of multiple sides. Any vegetarians or special diet – please advise and they will accommodate. Attendees will pay for their own lunch – will run about $15 including tax.
- Last day to cancel and receive a refund (your check returned/torn up) is November 14th.
- Where: Brushy Mountain Prison, 9182 Highway 116, Petros, TN 37845. Phone 423-324-TOUR
