

The Public Library at Tellico Village presents:

1ST FRIDAY AUTHORS

Cheryl was introduced to the principles of good writing at an early age by her mother, the managing editor of a publishing house. Cheryl worked in several different fields and then took up writing in retirement. She is the author of 11 books, including one thriller about an attack on a nuclear weapons convoy out of Y-12 in Oak Ridge, and a series of murder mysteries. Cheryl has been the president of the Authors Guild of East Tennessee since January 2019, and has lived in Tellico Village since 2003. Come to the library to visit with Cheryl and hear her talk about her books, or purchase a signed copy.
